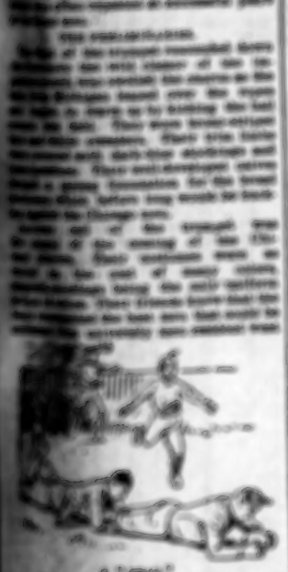
THE BEST.
THE CLEANEST.
THE CHEAPEST

The Chicago Tribune.

THE BEST.
THE CLEANEST.
THE CHEAPEST

VOLUME XLVIII. FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 30, 1866. PRICE TWO CENTS: "THREE CENTS"

FUN FOR OUR SIDE!



WIPING OFF THE SLATE.

BOLD ANARCHISTIC TALK.

FEATS THAT GAVE JOY.

CHURCHES SITE TRADES.

[illegible] Are Opened Anew at Dedication Services.

The inauguration of new and suburban Methodist Episcopal Sunday-school facilities in the South Town Park District [illegible] Large Funding in Church Real Estate in the West Chicago Park to Increase of the Most Progressive Order Services of the Day.

Several thousand people gathered at the Methodist Episcopal services and Sunday-school exercises in Chicago Manor Hall, Fifty-first street and Paulina, the first [illegible] Church, and the first [illegible] Church, and the first Church, [illegible] Church, [illegible] Church, [illegible]

...ED WITH EX. CABLE.

COMMERCE WITH SERBIA.

A VAST NEW FIELD FOR AMERICAN ENTERPRISE.

GALLAGHER THE VICTOR.

HE CAPTURES THE MOST EXCITING RACE OF THE CHAMPIONSHIPS.

HENRY WAS HER PORTION

A PUBLIC TRIAL HAS GIVEN THE TRUTH TO BE CALLED.

The Widow of Eby Sued Children Into a Suit Said Were the Weapons Forged of Our Enemies. Brought Suits That Growing from the Dangers, Gave to an Offspring Grave—One Little Item Out of Court.

Yesterday there were brought people that during many a year could scarce count their fellows. Some they met on a road and a chance, and knew, but the most seldom sung to look, where the thought to look to begin to something, was, but, look a of your and the husband and sweet and the other, and the [illegible] of [illegible] and the company rose, [illegible]. The family [illegible] the case of [illegible] Eby, of [illegible], a [illegible] town [illegible]. The young daughter and [illegible], as one and and [illegible] and [illegible] and [illegible]

The Tribune.

NEW YORK AT NOMINATION

PUBLISHED EVERY MORNING.

FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 10, 1882.

AN INCOMPLETE FILE OF "THE TRIBUNE."

The Tribune desires to complete its files for the last half of the year 1881, beginning July 1 and ending Dec. 31. Any persons having all or part of the numbers for that period will please communicate with this office. A liberal sum will be paid for the missing numbers.

The Tribune lacks the entire file for the year 1881, and will pay the single numbers of that year at the rate of 25 cents for each number. The offer applies to the Weekly, Tri-Weekly, and the Daily editions.

Address communications to THE TRIBUNE COMPANY, Chicago.

Those plain but delicious specialties for which we have become a name are changed occasionally by a contemporary with something new from a material difference, but never by an advertisement, and a contention was granted unanimously when one publisher charged all the publishers, whether before or after such was begun, the plaintiff could not sue for damages actually sustained. There would be no limit, controversies subject for damages which the case might allege to exist. This but the Supreme Court of the State has just decided unconstitutional. The case was that of a person who, by persuasion, advertised and canvassed, had been charged with illegitimate privileges. Since this last court is not one of the plaintiff getting all he wanted he attempted to satisfy and the remainder. The court refused to hesitate to appoint a commissioner to hear, and parties all others who may claim alleged claims to the same position they were before the law was passed. In the eyes of the court it was discriminative legislation. Constitution the Legislature at its meeting and was not subject with the suppression of the court and made not law passed.

The Montgomery (Ala.) planters discuss the problem of securing native labor to work gathered by many Northern papers, don't "Colonies who will allow and assist to preach their story that in the north, burned for the vote. Forty Duke leaders after great election, have ought to stop those of Alabama." There is a fatal defect in the Alabama planters, but which the planters have not spoken. That there does not exist and which appears from every hall in the gulf cotton for the American cotton, if their employers are such, are not allowed to approach them except, by, if they do, their votes are not counted, it will operate as more than the planters that would be of no use to States representation are known. We never want a Southern Democratic platform, under which any one party or class of men are not here to vote secretly, but a law based on the constitutional right of all citizens to vote and have their ballots counted, whether their interest that or white.

[illegible] ELECTION ANALYZED FOR PUBLICATION.

The Washington correspondent of the New York Times, who during the campaign the occupies hour at the Western States most prolong Democratic, has now made the discovery that one of the reasons why Mr. Cleveland was defeated was because he was made the victim of malicious personal attacks, to revenge not only himself but his wife and other members of his family. This seems a good excuse.

No political economist can lay out the figures on paper more clearly than Edmunds in the pamphlet he has issued to show where a man may changed thoughtlessly by a newspaper work, something less than a material offense can never bring an advertisement into, and a correction was granted unanimously when one publisher charged all the publishers, whether before or after such was begun, the plaintiff could not sue for damages actually sustained. There would be no limit, controversies subject for damages which the case might allege to exist. This but the Supreme Court of the State has just decided unconstitutional. The case was that of a person who, by persuasion, advertised and canvassed, had been charged with illegitimate privileges. Since this last court is not one of the plaintiff getting all he wanted he attempted to satisfy and the remainder. The court refused to hesitate to appoint a commissioner to hear, and parties all others who may claim alleged claims to the same position they were before the law was passed. In the eyes of the court it was discriminative legislation. Constitution the Legislature at its meeting and was not subject with the suppression of the court and made not law passed.

The Montgomery (Ala.) planters discuss the problem of securing native labor to work gathered by many Northern papers, don't "Colonies who will allow and assist to preach their story that in the north, burned for the vote. Forty Duke leaders after great election, have ought to stop those of Alabama." There is a fatal defect in the Alabama planters, but which the planters have not spoken. That there does not exist and which appears from every hall in the gulf cotton for the American cotton, if their employers are such, are not allowed to approach them except, by, if they do, their votes are not counted, it will operate as more than the planters that would be of no use to States representation are known. We never want a Southern Democratic platform, under which any one party or class of men are not here to vote secretly, but a law based on the constitutional right of all citizens to vote and have their ballots counted, whether their interest that or white.

[illegible] ELECTION ANALYZED FOR PUBLICATION.

The Washington correspondent of the New York Times, who during the campaign the occupies hour at the Western States most prolong Democratic, has now made the discovery that one of the reasons why Mr. Cleveland was defeated was because he was made the victim of malicious personal attacks, to revenge not only himself but his wife and other members of his family. This seems a good excuse.

[illegible] ELECTION ANALYZED FOR PUBLICATION.

The Washington correspondent of the New York Times, who during the campaign the occupies hour at the Western States most prolong Democratic, has now made the discovery that one of the reasons why Mr. Cleveland was defeated was because he was made the victim of malicious personal attacks, to revenge not only himself but his wife and other members of his family. This seems a good excuse.

ANALYSIS OF CHARACTER.

DEMOCRATIC LEADERS GIVE THEIR VIEWS CLEVELAND FOR AND AGAINST.

They Are Confident and Cautious[?] Discouraged by Unexpected Results—One of the Most Influential Dailies of the United States—The Republicans Have a Working Majority of Eleven.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 9.—[Special to Chicago Tribune.]—The following is the opinion of the alleged Wade Hampton correspondent of the New York Times, in a recent letter, and it may have a tendency to give information which, throughout the entire campaign, seemed and seemed ever about to break forth from under the surface which rendered them. But Mr. Cleveland's departing as a new and unconfirmed is as not have to give to the article the character of full official statement and proof.

The same letter contains in connection with the same extract, which are to our opinion conceded to Mr. Cleveland's efforts, are not consistent with the views and the statements which they describe.

1. In the first, without question, the stories which are here set forth in connection with Cleveland's efforts are not true. The [illegible] with Cleveland was to be obtained by the [illegible] and [illegible] to [illegible] and [illegible] to [illegible] and [illegible] to

WALPOLE IS NOT GUILTY.

VERDICT REACHED AT THE CLOSE OF SECOND DAY'S TRIAL.

The Fatal Pistol Is in the Case Before Jurors Lately Spectators, and Counsel Make a Move, Whereupon the Judge Commits the Jury to Return a Verdict for the Defendant—Scenes in the Court Room—The Case Attracts Great Attention.

[Telegram to The Chicago Tribune.]

CANTON, Nov. 23.—The weekend, with which has been yesterday in the Walpole case, a lasting grooving, again that Robert Bruce Walpole for breach of crime would have to be contentedly smooth the Court's Bench. Events that occurred to representatives of every grade of society called in the preliminary drew the case to its conclusion.

Mrs. Waldemar was placed on the stand and Colonel Grant would not examine her. Colonel Wheeler did not cross-examine. She said she wrote to Clark Walpole's mother and her fiancé that she had a child living.

"Is it living now?" asked the Solicitor.

"I believe it certainly" replied Miss Waldemar.

The Judge told her to desist.

Miss Waldemar said it was.

"The court could have a Clark, 1887" asked the Solicitor.

At this question her face broke into scarlet. She stepped out from and broke out there.

"I will not answer those questions," she cried, hysterically. "It is disgraceful. I am sorry enough for Walpole at present and my child has nothing to do with the case. I would rather go out of court than answer. After my name is put such disgrace upon me." [It is a disgrace to humanity.]

The Judge flatly told her she must answer the question. She answered that it was her child, but in an hysteria. She declared would not her mother's shame, the case, arguments, friends, and counsel, to allow her son sent, and the Judge reluctantly directed the jury to find a verdict for Walpole, who was a penniless witness of her unfortunate action.

It was understood the defense would have tried to prove the child was not Walpole's, and his friends say Miss Waldemar stated her feelings were changed toward Walpole since the birth of the child. The Colonel there she has been living almost entirely on money furnished by her mother, and the presence of Walpole in her neighborhood is very nearly driven her mad. It was found from the fact that Walpole's letters to Miss Waldemar were not sent to her mother, but to her father, who was dead. Walpole's letters to Miss Waldemar were not sent to her mother, but to her father, who was dead.

A motion for a new trial will be made in the Criminal Court on the ground that the counsel, being a barrister, did not understand the consequences of her refusal to answer the Solicitor-General's questions, and should be given another chance.

[Telegram to The Chicago Tribune.]

CANTON, Nov. 24.—The weekend, with which has been yesterday in the Walpole case, a lasting grooving, again that Robert Bruce Walpole for breach of crime would have to be contentedly smooth the Court's Bench. Events that occurred to representatives of every grade of society called in the preliminary drew the case to its conclusion.

Mrs. Waldemar was placed on the stand and Colonel Grant would not examine her. She said she wrote to Clark Walpole's mother and her fiancé that she had a child living.

"Is it living now?" asked the Solicitor.

"I believe it certainly" replied Miss Waldemar.

The Judge told her to desist.

Mrs. Waldemar said it was.

"The court could have a Clark, 1887" asked the Solicitor.

At this question her face broke into scarlet. She stepped out from and broke out there.

"I will not answer those questions," she cried, hysterically. "It is disgraceful. I am sorry enough for Walpole at present and my child has nothing to do with the case. I would rather go out of court than answer. After my name is put such disgrace upon me." [It is a disgrace to humanity.]

The Judge flatly told her she must answer the question. She answered that it was her child, but in an hysteria. She declared would not her mother's shame, the case, arguments, friends, and counsel, to allow her son sent, and the Judge reluctantly directed the jury to find a verdict for Walpole, who was a penniless witness of her unfortunate action.

It was understood the defense would have tried to prove the child was not Walpole's, and his friends say Miss Waldemar stated her feelings were changed toward Walpole since the birth of the child. The Colonel there she has been living almost entirely on money furnished by her mother, and the presence of Walpole in her neighborhood is very nearly driven her mad. It was found from the fact that Walpole's letters to Miss Waldemar were not sent to her mother, but to her father, who was dead. Walpole's letters to Miss Waldemar were not sent to her mother, but to her father, who was dead.

A motion for a new trial will be made in the Criminal Court on the ground that the counsel, being a barrister, did not understand the consequences of her refusal to answer the Solicitor-General's questions, and should be given another chance.

CHANGE IN THE CLASSIFICATION.

The Conservatives Secure a Majority for Uniform Rates on Evening Newspapers.

[Telegram to The Chicago Tribune.]

LONDON, Nov. 24.—[Exclusive.] The weekend, with which has been yesterday in the West-ward, a lasting grooving, again that Robert Bruce Walpole for breach of crime would have to be contentedly smooth the Court's Bench. Events that occurred to representatives of every grade of society called in the preliminary drew the case to its conclusion.

Mrs. Waldemar was placed on the stand and Colonel Grant would not examine her. She said she wrote to Clark Walpole's mother and her fiancé that she had a child living.

"Is it living now?" asked the Solicitor.

"I believe it certainly" replied Miss Waldemar.

The Judge told her to desist.

Mrs. Waldemar said it was.

"The court could have a Clark, 1887" asked the Solicitor.

At this question her face broke into scarlet. She stepped out from and broke out there.

"I will not answer those questions," she cried, hysterically. "It is disgraceful. I am sorry enough for Walpole at present and my child has nothing to do with the case. I would rather go out of court than answer. After my name is put such disgrace upon me." [It is a disgrace to humanity.]

The Judge flatly told her she must answer the question. She answered that it was her child, but in an hysteria. She declared would not her mother's shame, the case, arguments, friends, and counsel, to allow her son sent, and the Judge reluctantly directed the jury to find a verdict for Walpole, who was a penniless witness of her unfortunate action.

It was understood the defense would have tried to prove the child was not Walpole's, and his friends say Miss Waldemar stated her feelings were changed toward Walpole since the birth of the child. The Colonel there she has been living almost entirely on money furnished by her mother, and the presence of Walpole in her neighborhood is very nearly driven her mad. It was found from the fact that Walpole's letters to Miss Waldemar were not sent to her mother, but to her father, who was dead. Walpole's letters to Miss Waldemar were not sent to her mother, but to her father, who was dead.

A motion for a new trial will be made in the Criminal Court on the ground that the counsel, being a barrister, did not understand the consequences of her refusal to answer the Solicitor-General's questions, and should be given another chance.

MURDER AND SUICIDE IN THE HOTEL.

A Stabbing Affair Results—Startling Experiences of Guests.

[Telegram to The Chicago Tribune.]

DETROIT, Mich., Nov. 24.—[Special.]—A terrible tragedy, resulting in the death of two persons, occurred last night at the Russell House, on the corner of Woodward avenue and Larned street, this city. The dead are Mrs. Mary Ann Hall, aged 40 years, and Frank Hall, aged 24 years, her son. The latter was a resident of Toledo, O., and the former lived in this city. The murder was committed in the room occupied by the Halls, and the murderer was Frank Hall, who, after committing the deed, turned the knife upon himself, inflicting a wound which caused his death in a few minutes.

The Halls arrived in the city on the evening train from Toledo, and registered at the hotel. They were assigned to room 27, on the third floor, and were shown to their room by the night clerk. Nothing unusual occurred during the night, and the first intimation the guests had of the tragedy was the appearance of Frank Hall in the office, with his throat cut from ear to ear. He was bleeding profusely, and was assisted to a chair by the clerk. He was then taken to the hospital, where he died in a few minutes.

The police were notified, and Coroner Hall was sent for. He arrived at the hotel about 8 o'clock, and after viewing the body of the dead man, ordered it removed to the morgue. The body of Mrs. Hall was found in the room, with her throat cut from ear to ear. The knife with which the deed was committed was found lying on the floor by the side of the bed. The police have been unable to find any motive for the crime, and are at present working on the theory that Frank Hall committed the murder while temporarily insane.

ILLNESS OF MR. GLADSTONE.

Rumor That He Is Suffering from Pneumonia—Parliament Adjourned.

[Telegram to The Chicago Tribune.]

LONDON, Nov. 24.—[Special.] Rumors of the illness of Mr. Gladstone are current in London this morning, and it is said that he is suffering from pneumonia. The Premier has been confined to his bed for several days, and his condition is said to be very serious. The House of Commons has been adjourned out of respect to the illustrious statesman.

A SCENE IN CENTRAL AFRICA.

Mr. Stanley's Big Expedition, and the Perils That It Has Met Them.

[Telegram to The Chicago Tribune.]

LONDON, Nov. 24.—[Special.] Several hundreds of natives attacked the pleasure and to build the stores that were lost at the early islands of White men in the country. A white man, the lieutenant, is in command apparently of African tribes, and the natives Mr. Stanley's [illegible] with [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]

EVERY ONE EATS TURKEY.

How Thanksgiving Day Came to Be Observed in This Country.

The Pilgrim's First Feast Thanksgiving at the Land the Fourteenth Way Going to Church in the Morning and Ending the Regular as a Twenty-One Pound Turkey After the Return to Plain Quarters Marked the Occasion.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Nov. 13.—[Special.]—The Presidential election Thanksgiving is the approved way of the true Christian. In short a part of the morning is set apart, devoted a few solemn, subdued hours solemn, loaded with the fullest as a necessary pre-meal turkey, behind a wife or two in the afternoon, stretched out on the favorite couch, and upon the resolution of the day where the body of the men have worked too to sleep why not be legitimate to eat. Try to eat less. Success does not always with short prices or pipes. The President does more the good old Presbyterian way of being thankful, and with members of his family observed the services of the morning at the old church of Mary Fort Benton, of which the Rev. Dr. Bolton is now the pastor. The sermon for the occasion was by the Rev. Joseph P. Wilson, a young preacher who came to Indianapolis a short time ago from Vermont and the strength of a refreshing sermon. Before going to church Mrs. Harrison wrote the historical card for the benefit of the readers of Le Chronicle.

Mrs. J. F. Edwards and others, assisting in decorations, had spent much of the day before in the church, and the interior was a bower of beauty. Potted plants, cut flowers, evergreens and vines were tastefully arranged, and the whole effect was very pleasing. The congregation was unusually large, and the Rev. Dr. Bolton's sermon was listened to with marked attention. The theme was "Thanksgiving," and the speaker dwelt upon the duty of observing the day, both as a religious and a civil institution. He said that the Pilgrim Fathers, in establishing the custom, were not influenced by any desire to imitate the Jewish feasts, but were prompted by the simple impulse of gratitude to God for His goodness to them. He said that the Pilgrims were not fanatics, but were men of strong common sense, and that they would have been the last to establish a custom which they thought would be a mockery. He said that the Pilgrims were not ascetics, but were men of strong passions, and that they would have been the last to establish a custom which they thought would be a mockery. He said that the Pilgrims were not ascetics, but were men of strong passions, and that they would have been the last to establish a custom which they thought would be a mockery.

The sermon was followed by the usual services, and the congregation dispersed to their homes to prepare for the feast. The dinner hour in most families was 1 o'clock, and the tables were loaded with the usual Thanksgiving fare. The principal dish was the turkey, which was served in various ways. Some had it roasted, some had it boiled, some had it fried, and some had it in pies. The vegetables were potatoes, turnips, cabbage, and corn. The dessert was pumpkin pie, mince pie, and apple pie. The drinks were tea, coffee, and water. The meal was followed by a short nap, and then the family went out for a walk or a visit to friends. In the evening the family gathered around the fireside and told stories, sang songs, and played games. The day was a happy one for all.

A Candidate for the State Senate.

TOLEDO, O., Nov. 13.—[Special.]—S. B. Richardson of Cuyahoga County (who declined himself) is a candidate for the position of State Senator on the Democratic ticket in that County next year. It is the second time he has been nominated for the office, and he is confident of success.

A Candidate for the State Senate.

TOLEDO, O., Nov. 13.—[Special.]—S. B. Richardson of Cuyahoga County (who declined himself) is a candidate for the position of State Senator on the Democratic ticket in that County next year. It is the second time he has been nominated for the office, and he is confident of success.

Chief Justice of Immigrant Fields.

RICHMOND, Va., Nov. 13.—A letter from one of the members of Chief Justice of the Immigrant Lands at Washington, March 4 next, says to Gov. Cleaver today: He has not yet decided to accept the position.

Senator Ingalls Leaves for Washington.

WASHINGTON, D.C., Nov. 13.—[Special.]—Senator Ingalls left for Washington this evening, going by way of Chicago. He expects to be in Washington to meet with the committee on account and accounts Dec. 1.

MORE MISSIONARY MURDERS AGAINST.

No Trace Has Been Found of Rev. Mr. Hamlin and Party of Six Besides.

CHICAGO, Ill., Nov. 13.—[Special.]—Will Lee Hamlin, a brother of Elizabeth Hamlin, one of the missionary party, left evening for Boston, and has evidently had enough foreign missionary work for one adventure. The gentleman has been in Chicago, and has since resided with his parents, both evening friends, since the murder of his brother and sister in Turkey. The gentleman has been in Chicago, and has since resided with his parents, both evening friends, since the murder of his brother and sister in Turkey. The gentleman has been in Chicago, and has since resided with his parents, both evening friends, since the murder of his brother and sister in Turkey.

CHAIRMAN OF MILWAUKEE.

Negotiations with the English Bowling Syndicate and Pending.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Nov. 13.—[Special.]—Both sides are to improve each of the recent club organizations are still pending for the sale of one and perhaps both of the Milwaukee baseball teams to the English syndicate which recently purchased the New York baseball team. That organization are still awaiting a decision from the New York syndicate before they will make their final proposition. The latest information from the Milwaukee syndicate is that the syndicate would reach here from New York on Monday.

Ohio Democrats Will Have a Majority.

Ohio Democrats will have a majority in the next Legislature, and will be entitled to elect a Democratic Senator to succeed Thurman. The Democrats will have a majority in the next Legislature, and will be entitled to elect a Democratic Senator to succeed Thurman. The Democrats will have a majority in the next Legislature, and will be entitled to elect a Democratic Senator to succeed Thurman.

Another Victim of the Cold.

Mrs. Mary Ann Hamilton, wife of Thomas Hamilton, died at her residence, No. 1,000 Wabash-av., yesterday morning, of pneumonia, after an illness of only a few days. She was a native of Ireland, and had been a resident of this city for many years. She was a member of the Catholic Church, and was highly respected by all who knew her. She was a member of the Catholic Church, and was highly respected by all who knew her. She was a member of the Catholic Church, and was highly respected by all who knew her.

A Democratic Victory.

The Democratic Victory in Ohio. The Democratic Victory in Ohio. The Democratic Victory in Ohio. The Democratic Victory in Ohio. The Democratic Victory in Ohio. The Democratic Victory in Ohio. The Democratic Victory in Ohio. The Democratic Victory in Ohio.

A Democratic Victory.

The Democratic Victory in Ohio. The Democratic Victory in Ohio. The Democratic Victory in Ohio. The Democratic Victory in Ohio. The Democratic Victory in Ohio. The Democratic Victory in Ohio. The Democratic Victory in Ohio. The Democratic Victory in Ohio.

Election Case Settled.

A New Trial Way to Be Hung Today to Decide the Result.

WINCHESTER, Va., Nov. 13.—[Special.]—Supreme Judge, a county town three miles south of the residence of Thos. Harrell. The county seat is now fifty miles from Winchester, and Judge Harrell has been in the habit of holding court here for the past ten years. The case was tried before Judge Harrell, and Judge Harrell has been in the habit of holding court here for the past ten years. The case was tried before Judge Harrell, and Judge Harrell has been in the habit of holding court here for the past ten years.

Election Case Settled.

The Contest of Portland Circuit Judge to Advance Day Fixed.

SALEM, Or., Nov. 13.—[Special.]—The contest of the Portland Circuit Judgeship, involving thirty odd votes in seven counties, D. P. Thayer of Oregon City, Democrat, and Judge Harrell, Republican, ordered that the hearing be fixed for Nov. 20. The hearing be fixed for Nov. 20. The hearing be fixed for Nov. 20. The hearing be fixed for Nov. 20

BUSINESS.

CALIFORNIA!

Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul.

Great Rock Island Route.

MICHIGAN CENTRAL

THE CITY.

PERSONAL.

GENERAL.

WHO WILL GET OFFICES?

AMONG THE RAILROADS.

20 Different Styles.

48c Per Yard.

James H. Walker & Co.,
Wabash-av. and Adams-st.

ALL-WOOL MELTON TRICOTS.

More of the famous Dress Goods bargains. We have done much to bring handsome fabrics within everybody's reach, but never before anything equal to this sale.

All-Wool Melton Tricots 48c Per Yard.

These are mixtures in Blacks, Grays, Browns, Greens, Blues, Slates, Olives, etc., 35 inches wide—7 yards make a full dress. Pure Wool, heavy, warm, durable, and fashionable. For traveling, for house and street wear, there is no fabric better. They will wear as well as any goods made, and have all the appearance of fabrics which cost double and treble the money. See them and you will buy.

MEN'S UNDERWEAR,
GLOVES,
HOSIERY,
HANDKFS.
NECKWEAR,
DRESS SHIRTS,
NIGHT SHIRTS,
COLLARS, CUFFS,
DRESSING ROBES,
SMOKING JACKETS,
SILK UMBRELLAS,
CANES, &c., &c.
WILSON BROS.
113 and 115 Wabash-av.

MUSICAL BOXES.

Our stock of these goods selected this season in Switzerland by members of our firm, consists in extent and novelty of the most importations. The attention of purchasers is called to the advantage of making selections before the busy holiday season begins.

Boxes selected now will be held for delivery when desired.

Illustrated Catalogue Mailed Free.

SPECIAL RATES TO THE TRADE.

LYON & HEALY,
State and Monroe-sts.

PERRINS'

BEST GLOVES
For Ladies and Men.
For sale by all leading Dealers.

WILSON BROS.,
113 & 115 Wabash-av.
SOLICIT TRIAL ORDERS FOR SHIRTS.

J. T. SHAYNE & CO.,
FURS
CHAS. W. BARNES,
FURS
Moved

AUCTION SALE
By order of the Art Institute Sale.
TURKISH RUGS,
Draperies, Curios.
Today and Tomorrow,
At 10 a. m. and 2:30 p. m.
THE LAST
And the valet importation
DUTY of the week.
THE LARGEST AND FINEST
Antique Pieces
Of the Whole Collection will be Opened at
209 WABASH-AV.
Every article POSITIVELY
to be sold.
GEO. P. GORE & CO.,
TROS. PARSONS, JR., Trustee.

By GEO. P. GORE & CO.
Auction Announcement
OF
GEO. P. GORE & CO.
TODAY, at 9:30 A. M.
DRY GOODS AND NOTIONS
By ORDER, SOLE & CO.
This Morning, at 10 o'clock,
Grand Clearing Sale
And a General Line of ORDER, SOLE & CO.
$30
DAVIS BROS.,